2014 Wyoming Campaign Guide Available Online

Secretary of State Max Maxfield announced the release of the 2014 Wyoming Campaign Guide. The online guide is updated each election year as a resource for candidates, their supporters, and others involved in political campaigns. It is also widely used by political action committees, political parties, and the media.

Among other tools, the guide contains tables describing contribution limits, campaign finance disclosure requirements, and highlights of the Wyoming Campaign Practices law.

“The Campaign Guide is a useful tool for all candidates whether they plan to run for state senate, county commission, or local school board,” Maxfield said.

The Secretary urges all potential candidates to study the legal requirements governing their campaign activities.
